UN CLIMATE CHANGE
CONFERENCE
UK 2021

'God spoke: "Let us make human beings in our image, make them reflecting our nature So they can be responsible for the fish in the sea, the birds in the air, the cattle, And, yes, Earth itself, and every animal that moves on the face of Earth."'

Genesis 1:26-27 (MSG)

COP 26

‘It becomes ever clearer that climate change is the greatest threat we and future generations face. A true horseman of the apocalypse.

-Justin Welby, Archbishop of Canterbury

“Listen to the cry of the earth and the cry of the poor, who suffer the most. The urgent need for interventions can no longer be postponed.”

-Pope Francis

“The future of the human race is now at stake.”

Rowan Williams, Former Archbishop of Canterbury

Though the fig tree should not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines, the produce of the olive fail and the fields yield no food, the flock be cut off from the fold and there be no herd in the stalls, yet I will rejoice in the Lord; I will take joy in the God of my salvation.

Habakkuk 3:17–18 (ESV)

A NEW Salvation Army International Positional Statement (IPS) on ‘Caring for the Environment’ sets out a strongly worded and compelling description of the many ways that God’s creation has suffered catastrophic damage from the actions of human beings. Pledging to foster a ‘culture of sustainability’, the statement calls for immediate action to be taken to address and combat ‘environmental degradation’.

The IPS, which has been approved by General Brian Peddle, says: ‘The Salvation Army recognises environmental degradation as one of the most pressing issues facing the world today ... Its effects fall disproportionately on the most vulnerable, particularly in terms of health, livelihood, shelter and the opportunity to make choices. The very survival of humanity depends on the health of the whole ecosystem.’

Committing The Salvation Army to sustainable environmental practices, the statement continues: ‘In addition to being compelled by the lived experience, The Salvation Army also accepts the scientific evidence that demands action on all levels.’

A PERSONAL CALL

In light of the new IPS, the General has made a personal call for Salvationists and friends to ‘make adjustments in lifestyle and comforts, for example:

Consider our use of heating and cooling – a 1.5° Celsius change is a good start;

Think twice about our ease of travel, choosing to walk or cycle where possible;

Make intentional choices of sustainable products when shopping;

Positively declare your part in the stewardship of the earth;

Move our thinking on from competing for more to collaborating and sharing’.

An IPS is an articulation, crafted with careful and prayerful thought, of the official viewpoint of The Salvation Army and is drafted by the International Moral and Social Issues Council, comprised of Salvation Army officers and soldiers. This international group has first-hand knowledge of the changes inflicted on the earth by environmental degradation including drought, food production difficulties and extreme weather conditions.

The General adds: ‘During the pandemic, the earth has taken a deep breath. Our skies cleared, cities refreshed themselves and birds sang. Striking the right balance between our needs and what is sustainable must catch the attention of every Salvationist.’

IMPACT

The ‘Background and Context’ section of the new IPS explores the ‘unprecedented and devastating levels of degradation’ which are leading to species extinction, pollution and land destruction. The over-reliance on and excessive use of carbon-based fuels is highlighted, although the statement stresses that ‘environmental degradation’ is about far more than energy issues, adding: ‘It also impacts factors such as food and water insecurity, poverty and migration.’

The scriptural basis for the position is laid out in detail, highlighting how God entrusted humanity with the task to care for the land and its plants and animals.

The IPS concludes with a series of suggested practical responses through which The Salvation Army ‘seeks to foster a culture of sustainability with a focus on long-term environmental solutions. These vary from raising awareness of the devastating impact humans are having on God’s earth and striving to enact sound environmental policies to smaller-scale but important efforts such as ‘encouraging Salvationists to consider a vocation in environmental science.’

A prayer for COP 26

Father of Creation, God of Compassion

You created a world of wonder,

Of possibility and potential.

You declared it to be good.

For this, we give thanks.

To you be praise, honour and glory.

Father of Creation, God of Compassion,
This world is no longer as you intended it to be. Humanity has betrayed its calling, to tend and keep,

Creation groans.

On our watch,
We reap what we have sown,

On our watch,
Sea levels rise,

On our watch,
Forests destroyed,

On our watch,
Locusts Swarm.

And so now with tears in our eyes we look to you,
With regret, With repentance,
Knowing the difficult decades that we face,
As temperatures rise, Extinctions increase,
As we come to terms with our existential plight.

For our children, Lord, have mercy.

For our grandchildren, Christ, have mercy.

For the world's most vulnerable, Christ, have mercy.

Father of Creation, God of Compassion, Wake us from our slumber

Prayer for Halloween

God of Laughter and Joy,

We turn to you in the way of our ancient ancestors,
grateful for the abundance of food and festivity
that surrounds us at this time of year.

Keep all children safe as they embark on their Halloween revels.

Light their way through the dark night
and enfold them in your love.

May the real treat in their lives be grace that multiplies in depth and breadth as they grow older.

We pray this with all the saints in heaven
Amen.

TRICK OR TREAT!!!!

Why not take some spare copies of KIDS ALIVE and offer good news (and sweets!) to any children who come knocking?
