Birthdays

No birthdays (as far as my records go) this week.

So, I looked to see who else was born on this day and came across the founder of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, (NSPCC) Benjamin Waugh.

Working as a Congregationalist minister in the slums of Greenwich, Waugh became appalled at the deprivations and cruelties suffered by children. This led him to establish the charity devoted to the protection of children.

He was also, from 1874 to 1896, editor of a religious periodical, The Sunday Magazine, in which he published several of his own hymns, among which is "Now let us see thy beauty, Lord", which has appeared in several editions of the Methodist Hymn Book.

I then chanced across a letter written to him by WT Stead who as a newspaper published worked with the Salvation Army to highlight the prostitution of children and which led to the raising of the age of consent. WT Stead was sent to prison for exposing the wealthy of London's engagement in the sex trade.

Letter from W.T. Stead to Benjamin Waugh.
The Dock, Old Bailey (November 10, 1885)

Dear Benjamin,

Good-bye, my dear friend. I am going to gaol with joy unspeakable, and a peace which is very rare with me. My peace is usually due to excessive action. Now I am inactive, and still am at peace. It is a new experience - possibly only a transient one - but very pleasant and heavenly while it lasts.

I have a kind of dread of the relapse when this trial is over, and I am left all alone in a cell. But God will be there. Perhaps he wants a quiet talk with me, and has not had time hitherto, and so we are to be alone.

God bless you, dear Mr. Waugh. You have fed me, and kept me in good humour with myself, when I have been inclined to be in doleful dumps. You have loved me with a love passing the love of woman, and I am deeply grateful to you for it all.

But now that we must part for a season, take one parting word from me. Pray do moderate your wrath against those who have been prosecuting me. Remember that we must be as charitable to a Judge as to a harlot, and that we must be just even to those we judge to be unjust.

Pardon this liberty, dear Benjamin, and believe me to be none the less thankful to you for your sympathy and helpful, inspiring loves which I feel you have heaped upon me far more than I deserve.

I am, Yours, in brotherly love, W.T. Stead

The work of the Salvation Army to support those caught up in modern day slavery and all forms of human trafficking continues today.

This week sees the launch of our look at Healthy Church.

It's a theme that will inform a lot of our thinking and praying in 2022 and is part of the mission strategy encouraged by Divisional Head Quarters.

During our meeting this morning we will ask some questions to get us started.

We will return to them in a few weeks to see how God might be shaping our hearts and minds.

We won't be asking you for your answers (although you can certainly share your thoughts with us)

We will be sending the newsletter to those who cannot be with us today.

Acts 2 42-47

<sup>42</sup> They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. <sup>43</sup> Everyone was filled with awe at the many wonders and signs performed by the apostles. <sup>44</sup> All the believers were together and had everything in common. <sup>45</sup> They sold property and possessions to give to anyone who had need. <sup>46</sup> Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, <sup>47</sup> praising God and enjoying the favour of all the people. And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved.
