

NEVER, NEVER YIELD! † †
 "Resist steadfast in the faith." —
 1 Peter v. 9.

On the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, there is an old tower in which, years ago, a number of Christian women, who refused to renounce their faith at the bidding of the French king, were imprisoned for life. In a gloomy chamber of this tower, one of the women is said to have carved, on the stone pavement, in bold characters, the one word "RESIST." It is supposed that the object was to encourage any weaker person who should come after her, and who might be tempted to give in because of the hardship and persecution.

Let every tried and tempted comrade take this word as a battle-cry. God is able and willing to help and keep you, but you must do your part and resist the devil, in whatever shape or form he may appear.

FOR SOLDIERS' MEETING.

THE LOST WITNESS † † †
 "Restore to me the joy of Thy salvation."—Ps. li. 12.

We are told, in "The Pilgrim's Progress," that Christian, when on his way from the City of Destruction, once entered into a pleasant arbour to rest. Here he fell asleep, and dropped his roll—which signifies the Witness within that he was Christ's and Christ was his. Great was his distress when he discovered his loss, and it was only by carefully retracing his steps to the spot where he left the roll that he was restored to its possession.

It is more than likely that there are people here who have lost the Witness that they are saved, or that they are holy. They have probably lost it in much the same way that Christian did—neglected to watch, rested when they should have been fighting, or got immersed in worldly affairs of some kind or another. The best, perhaps the only, way to regain their lost treasure is to retrace their steps to the point where they went wrong, and there ask forgiveness and claim victory through the Lamb!

A TURN AT THE GUN. † †
 "I am among you as he that serveth." —
 Luke xxii. 27.

Engaged in the war in South Africa were a father and son. The former, a colonel, obtained leave to visit his boy, who was only a subaltern. When he arrived, he found a stiff fight going on, and as the sergeant serving the gun was shot, the old colonel immediately threw off his coat, and, ignoring all rank, went on working the gun under the direction of his son.

That is the spirit which should characterise the Salvation Soldier. In our struggle with the forces of hell there should be none of the pride or jealousy which says, "I'm not going to take that position, or do that work—it's below my deserts," and so on, and so on. God and The Salvation Army want you to take a turn at the "gun," and, like the old colonel, you should not hesitate to accept the call.

THE DO-NOTHING PEOPLE.

Try up their cradle. Make them question the ground of their religious hopes. Make them understand that true godliness is practical benevolence, and that they must at once become followers of Jesus, and go in for a life of self-sacrifice in order to do good and save souls, or else give up all hope and title to being Christians. Make these people see this, and keep on at it until they do. They will rub their eyes and wake up, depend upon it, when they do see it; and though some may go off to other places where they can be edified without being constantly faced with their neglected responsibilities, others will go to work with a will, and you will soon see things move.

—THE GENERAL.

WHY are only ones and twos saved? Not because of any decree to save ones and twos only, but because only ones and twos go out to save them. A crowd that understands its business, and knows how to take hold of God, and how to deal with men, will catch a crowd. Let us go out in crowds to this scavenging business. Come along!
