THE FIELD OFFICER.

"Go straight for Souls, and go for the worst."—THE GENERAL.

No. 8.]

AUGUST, 1904.

[Vol. 12.

SHAFTS OF LIGHT.

"THERE is an immense difference between making a living and making a life."

"We are never more discontented with others than when we are discontented with ourselves."

"The great successes of the world have been affairs of a second, a third, nay, a fiftieth trial."

"Energy of character has always a power to evoke energy in others. It acts through sympathy, one of the most influential of human agencies."

The zealous, energetic man unconsciously carries others along with him. He exercises a sort of electric power which sends a thrill through every fibre, flows into the nature of those about him, and makes them give out sparks of fire."

"Certain thoughts are prayers. There are moments when, whatever the attitude of the body may be, the soul is on its knees."

"Divine reinforcements are always at hand, and to work along the line of improvement is to work with God."

"The so-called passive virtues either are not virtues or are not passive. Humility, patience, self-denial and the forgiveness of injuries are battles and victories."

"It is through a thousand tryings and a thousand failures that we come to find what is really our own. That is one of the great gains of earnest duty. We learn from it the confines of our kingdom. It is by action that there is taken from us that which we only seem to have."
