THE FIELD OFFICER.

"Go straight for Souls, and go for the worst."—THE GENERAL.

No. 4.]

APRIL, 1900.

[Vol. 8.]

SPECIAL—To FIELD OFFICERS.

MY DEAR COMRADES,—

Your attention has already been called to the fact that The General has decided to write a Series of Letters, which are to be read at each Tuesday Night's Soldiers' Meeting.

My own soul is full of appreciation for this special effort of The General, and I am crying to God that He may make it a mighty inspiration to your soul, and from you to your dear Locals and Soldiers.

Read each Letter with prayer; read it with emphasis. Remember the high store your Soldiers put on words from The General. God will certainly make it a most powerful auxiliary to you in your fight for souls, and in your efforts for the sanctification of your Soldiers.

I am sure you will at once see the great opportunity which is before you. We were never needed so much before, and the people of your town and district can, and must, be reached. The lowest and the vilest must be laid hold of, and a great spiritual awakening must take place.

May God give you the faith to believe it can be done.

Every Field Officer must read these Letters, taking one each week. The first was sent in the War Cry parcel, and was to be read on March 27th. The second Letter is for April 10th, and so on. Should illness or any other reason make it impossible for you to be present at the Tuesday Night's Meeting, an efficient Local Officer must be deputed for this work.

The reading will occupy about fifteen minutes, and in addition the Officer is at liberty to comment on it, either in passing or at the close; also to introduce a suitable Song, such as "All I have I am bringing to Thee," "All my heart I give Thee," "My soul is now united," etc.

May God keep you in the spirit of holy expectation!

God bless you!
Yours in the Blood and Fire,
THOMAS B. COOMBS,
British Commissioner.
