Questions about your Corps.

Is your Corps going into any new streets next week?

Do you think, and plan, and strive to reach the forsaken creatures who wallow in sin at your own door?

We have no right to call ourselves an Army, and then coolly say the rebels are outside the range of our guns? We have taken upon us the duty of getting at them, and we must rouse ourselves to fresh effort, over and over again, until it is done.

* * *

What is wanted. The conjunction of a wonder-working God, with living miracles of grace; God in men and women who are utterly distinct and separate from the world; God-possessed men and women.

Seeking and saving. This is God's order: "Seek first, and then save." If we are not earnest seekers after men, we shall see little or no soul-saving results. "The Son of man is come to seek and save the lost." This was what Jesus did, and we must do the same. If men will not come to us, we must go after them, and go for the worst.

Make opportunities. Be in season and out of season. Make open-air soul-saving times, War Cry selling opportunity for bombarding. Make a dead set for men's souls at all times and in all places. Always be trying to get into conversation with everybody. Teach your people to do this also.

Are your War Cry sellers—yourself—merely newspaper vendors? If so, wake up, beware of becoming fossils. What a wonderful chance a War Cry seller has of getting into conversation and tackling people about their souls.

* * *

Why should we not have fishers to deal with folks who stand at their doors listening to our open-air?

Don't let your Soldiers' legs and sinews (spiritual) wither up for want of exercise. The best Field-Officer is he who utilizes most the forces at his command.

Have you drifted into leading all the open-air and indoors yourself?
