Prayers

Continue to pray for Isobel and for Barry Davies who remain in QEQM after their recent falls. Pray for Tracy’s dad (and Isaiah’s grandad) also in QEQM after a fall. All three have broken bones and need much care – and prayer!

Continued prayers for Josette and Joyce Hill and also for Angela’s sister Teresa about to start cancer treatment.

BIG COLLECTION 2022

We have received this encouragement from Head Quarters

Thank you all so much for your support with The Big Collection over the years. The vital funds raised by The Big Collection help us keep the good news of Jesus central to everything we do. It is critically important in helping us dispel the myth that the Social Work Trust is for the secular work of the Army. It shows that salvationists and friends are committed to integrated gospel of Jesus in thought, word and deed in every aspect of our work.

This year’s appeal is another opportunity to encourage corps members and friends to put our faith into action and help to transform the lives of people who need us and are suffering. Getting involved in The Big Collection is easy – and for many of you will mostly involve continuing the amazing work that you are already doing. By getting involved, they are helping to bring about lasting transformation in lives and communities blighted by poverty in all its destructive forms.

Finally, let’s remember that The Big Collection is a valuable opportunity not just to raise much-needed funds but also to demonstrate our Christian faith and show others that the Salvation Army is effectively building God’s Kingdom in a myriad of ways. Thank you in anticipation for your support this year.

Called into being by His Holy Spirit,
Shaped by His Spirit, by His Spirit fed,
God made an army, Army of Salvation,
Bound to His bidding, by His Spirit led.
He was the glory! He was the power!
His people, they became the people for the hour.

Moved with compassion, sincere in their service,
Pledged and committed, counting not the cost,
God's selfless soldiers, spent all, asking nothing,
Healing the wounded, seeking for the lost.
Touched by His spirit, armed with His power;
His people proved to be the people for the hour.

Still children suffer, helpless in their hurting,
Still faith is needed, kindness and care,
Still there is sadness, evil goes unchallenged,
Deep is the darkness round us everywhere.
Hear our petition! Pour out your power!
And make your people, Lord, the people for this hour.

*Lord of our yesterdays, be with us yet; All of our modern needs in you are met;
Filled with your Spirit, charged with His power,
O make your people Lord, the people for this hour!*
