Gyfeillion,

At this special time of year I'm always reminded of the great Harvest songs sung in school assemblies: "We plough the fields and scatter", "Come ye thankful people come", "Cauliflowers fluffy and cabbages green" ...these all spring to mind. There was also a more contemporary song, "Autumn Days when the grass is jewelled" which pupils used to belt out when I was teaching, the words from the chorus which remain in my mind:

"No I mustn't forget, no I mustn't forget, to say a great big thank you, I mustn't forget!"

In this season of harvest we mustn't forget in our gatherings to give thanks and praise to God for all the gifts and blessings He provides for us each day. Let us not be like one of the nine lepers (Luke 17: 11-19) who went on their way rejoicing after being healed, but who forgot to return to thank their healer, Jesus. Let us instead be like the one who did return to offer thanks and received still further blessings from our Lord as a result.

In a world of chaos, confusion and conflict, giving thanks may seem foolish, old-fashioned or even inappropriate to some, but recognising what you are grateful for can make a real difference to personal well-being as well as to those receiving the thanks being offered. May we all therefore join with heartfelt praise and thanks when we lift up these words in the days to come: "All good gifts around us are sent from heav'n above; then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord for all His love."

Bendithion Duw i chi gyd yr amser Cynhaeaf hwn | may God bless you all at this Harvest time. Paul
