I chi, i ni, i Dduw | For you, for us, for God
Awst | August 2026

The enduring image of Jesus inviting the children to come and spend time with him as found in Luke 18:15-17, is one which brings delight but also carries a great privilege and responsibility for us as Jesus' followers.

In July, Donna and I spent a day at the Royal Welsh Show in Llanellwedd running some children's activities as part of the Cytûn (churches together) ministry and outreach there. It was a delight to see the children engage in craft and colouring throughout the day, and to see their parents take a short breather whilst their daughters and sons were fully occupied! I lost count of how many badges were designed and created as the day passed! Over this last year, we have been blessed to welcome back the Homestart Ceredigion team who have run a toddler group out of the hall each Tuesday morning, and to share in the work of this charity as it supports parents who are facing real struggles in these current times. This month sees us using our Tuesday morning spot to run four Messy Church sessions for children and their families which will involve craft activity, Bible stories and teaching, our time ending by sharing some food together. I firmly believe that this is what Jesus had in mind when he spoke these important words, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these". If you would like to volunteer some help at a craft table or prepare food in the kitchen, please see Donna, but I would urge us all to commit to praying for each of the little ones and their families, as well as for every volunteer who will attend. May all our activity be done for the sake of our Lord and for the Kingdom of God. Bydded i fendithion cariad gan yr Arglwydd Iesu fod yn eiddoch chi | may blessings of love from the Lord Jesus be yours. Pob bendith, Paul

Prayer matters...it really does!

Seek the Lord's grace and love over these people and situations:

- Children and young people on summer holiday at the moment; for families where the cost of living is a real issue during the holidays.
- For those who are suffering in body, mind or spirit in these days; that relief and help may be found.
- For all Corps and Charity Shop ministry and mission this month - especially Messy Church each Tuesday morning during this month.
- For our country and its people; for wisdom for all elected to office or holding positions of authority.
- That our ministry will share the good news about Jesus and encourage others to come to Him to encounter his saving grace and love.
- The work of the Church universal in Jesus' name.
