

#AntiSlaveryDay

18 October 2026

It Takes An Army To Combat Modern Slavery; stand in solidarity with survivors by learning how to spot the signs of this horrific crime hidden in plain sight here in the UK:

- Someone looks frightened, unkempt, malnourished or has untreated injuries.
- Someone else is paying for their travel; speaking for them; picking up and dropping them off from work at unusual times or they may not be sure of their own address.
- If something doesn't look or feel right, then raise the alarm if you feel safe to do so.
- The Salvation Army has a free 24/7 confidential referral advice line on 0800 808 3733 for anyone who suspects that they or someone they have come across might be a victim of modern slavery. If someone is in immediate danger call 999.

How to use this paperchain:

Show your support for survivors this Anti-Slavery Day by helping us raise awareness. Cut out the paperchain (you can even colour it in) and display it in your front window, a car window, a SATCoL shop window, a corps notice board etc. Then take a selfie with the paperchain in the background, post it on your social media channels with the copy: 'It Takes An Army To Combat Modern Slavery' and tag The Salvation Army in your post @salvationarmyuk

For more information about how to support survivors of modern slavery, scan the QR code or visit the link below.
tsa.link/4A92rFL

