A widely used, but anonymous saying in journalistic circles is "Good news doesn't sell newspapers!" So that's why when we look at news on our TV screens, tablets or actual newspapers we are often confronted with the stories which are sad, negative or seem to lack hope. This is also why so many people are turning away from scrolling through rolling news stories seeking something else...seeking news which picks you up or seeking something to make them smile. As followers of Jesus, we have Good News to share; news which is always hope-filled about a loving Lord and Saviour who through His grace and forgiveness allows us to live lives of love and service for Him and for others. We have been blessed with many good news stories as a Corps family over these past months...let me share a few of these with you now:

- Our charity shop team worked hard through the summer heat bringing in increased revenue whilst also continuing to show the love of Jesus to all the shoppers;
- We saw children and families across August coming to Messy Church, sharing fun, fellowship and food around a Bible theme and related crafts;
- Some of our young people received amazing GCSE, BTEC and A level grades, with one of them taking up a place at the Royal Welsh College of Music & Drama in September;
- Donations of money have enabled us to extend our mission and ministry further, for example, new Bibles for distribution, a replacement water boiler for the Corps kitchen and developing work with young people;
- We welcomed a member of the Corps family as an Adherent member in June, and hope that another two will be welcomed as adherents on Sunday 18th October.
- The weekly Drop-In welcomes people from across our community as they have need (and none) each week, with a new volunteer assisting in the kitchen, and our Employability Adviser, Jess, securing training or opportunities for people she has been working with.
- The weekly prayer furnace and Bible Study are seeing new members but also lives being changed through the prayers we pray each week or the Scripture passages we read and have been studying.

I hope that you feel encouraged and uplifted by the good news which we have been able to share here. May we each, because of Jesus, be challenged to share His Good News with others to cheer a struggling world in these days. Bendithion Iesu i chi gyd ar gyfer y mis sydd i ddod. Paul

Prayer matters...it really does!

Seek the Lord's grace and love over these people and situations:

- Those struggling with the cost of living in these days - locally, nationally and internationally.
- Those who are suffering in body, mind or spirit; that relief and help may be found. That comfort will be given to those who are bereaved, including the family and friends of Muriel Lucas and Huw Reynolds.
- The continued ministry and mission of the Corps and Charity shop as we move into autumn.
- Wisdom and a change of heart to be experienced by leaders nationally and internationally at this time.
- The work of the Church universal in Jesus' name.
